NEGLIGENCE

66. Plaintiff Normand A. Morin (now his Estate) died within hours of the Defendant's action and outrageous conduct.

COUNT VI

72. Co-Plaintiff Christine Morin offered alternatives to the examination, including but not limited to physical inspection of the subject property, meetings with the police, or examination under oath of herself.
73. Defendant Insurance company denied these reasonable offers, and threatened to deny the insurance claim without an examination of the late Normand A. Morin.
74. Co-Plaintiff Christine Morin as daughter and care-taker for the late Norman A. Morin, as well as Louise Morin (wife of Normand A. Morin) was present at the Defendant insurance company examination of late Norman A. Morin.

79. The above paragraphs are incorporated herein and restated.

80. Plaintiffs incurred damages exceeding the statutory Superior Court threshold of $25,000.00, exclusive of costs and attorneys' fees.

81. Plaintiffs' subject home, unable to be repaired because the Defendant failed to process the insurance claim, was sold on or about May 30, 2014 for $132,000.00.

84. The Plaintiffs have incurred costs and attorneys' fees in this action and said costs and attorneys fees will continue to accrue.

85. MGL c.93A and c.176D entitle the Plaintiffs to recovery of all costs and attorneys' fees.

86. MGL c.93A and c.176D entitle the Plaintiffs to recovery of double or treble damages in light of the Defendant's reckless and knowing conduct.

87. Plaintiffs are entitled to such further relief as the Court finds meet and just for the emotional distress, including but not limited to death, suffered by Normand A. Morin.

PRE-LITIGATION DEMAND PURSUANT TO MGL c.93A and c.176D

FIRST CLASS MAILJohn Baumeister

Property: 112 Woburn Street, Lowell, MA
Policy No. 769475027-0
Claim No. JDE03752 4X

Dear Mr. Baumeister:

This Letter is a pre-litigation demand pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 93A and Chapter 176D for unfair and deceitful business practices and claims practices with regard to processing an insurance claim. Please respond in the time permitted.

Formal pre-suit demand is hereby made and this Office reserves the right to supplement and amend should this matter require formal legal suit.

Property Loss (Fair Market Value):	$131,000.00
Attorney Fees (to date of letter):	$ 2,500.00
Furniture Damage / Cleaning Clothes:	$ 17,000.00
Moving Expenses:	$ 1,500.00
Costs for postage/mailing:	$ 18.80

NET Total: $152,018.80

Total Demand (trebled under MGL c.93A & c.176D): $456,056.40

History

On or about January 18, 2014, a loss was suffered by the homeowner insured at the insured property location with significant damages. Police reports were filed documenting the same. Your company was immediately notified of the loss; however, your company refused or otherwise failed to conduct a physical inspection or site visit upon the subject property. The insured also notified your company that the subject property was in the process of being sold "as is" with the damage in the next several months. Again, your company refused or failed to conduct a physical inspection. On May 30, 2014, the property was sold for $132,000.00 as a result of the significant damages and non-assignment of insurance claims to the buyer. Recently, the property was re-sold by the buyer on August 28, 2015 after repairs for $263,000.00. In simple conclusion, it appears that the damages claimed under the insurance policy caused the fair market value for the subject property to drop $131,000.00.

Nevertheless, your company has done nothing to investigate the claimed damages. Your recent correspondence indicated that the claim is now denied because you believe the property to (1) been vacant at time of loss, and (2) not serviced by utilities. Your summary dismissal of the claim is knowingly false and a violation of MGL c.93A and c.176D for unfair settlement practices. Be clear, your decision to close the claim is a clear violation since inter alia (1) your company was aware that although the property was listed for sale the property was maintained by the homeowner, and thus their personal belongings remained at the property (an actual site inspection by your office would have confirmed the same), and (2) several utility bills were submitted to your office demonstrating that adequate services remained in operation at loss.

Massachusetts Consumer Protection Laws (MGL c. 93A) violations:

Massachusetts' cornerstone law is its Consumer Protection law, more formally illustrated under Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 93A. This law prohibits unfair and deceptive actions against consumers, such as the insured homeowners, in the course of business. As an insurance company offering insurance in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and otherwise holding operations herein the Commonwealth for the public such as the insured, you are deemed to be operating in the chain of commerce as defined by MGL c.93A, §1(b) therefore you are subject to the penalties set forth thereunder.

Your company's actions as set forth above also illustrate a pattern of violations under Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 176D (unfair insurance settlement practices). Collectively MGL c.93A, §9, and MGL c.176D provide the remedy of treble (triple) damages as well as the collection of all attorney fees and costs incurred in any action against the offending party. Such demand results from your acts of unfair and deceptive business practices set forth below. Please respond accordingly as provided by statute.

For your reference, M.G.L. c. 93A provides for private remedies to those injured as the result of unfair methods of competition and unfair and/or deceptive trade practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce. In the prevailing case of Rhodes v. AIG Domestic Claims, Inc. 461 Mass. 486 (2012) the court held that violations of MGL c93A will be deemed willful when the offending party clearly violates an Attorney General Regulation. As indicated in Rhodes, when tort liability becomes reasonably clear, insurers have duty to effectuate a prompt, fair, and equitable settlement pursuant to MGL c.176D, §3(9)(f). It is undisputable that your company's failure to actually inspect the physical property following the claim is "ad minimus" to processing any claim – nevertheless, your company refused to inspect. Be it known that a violation of MGL c.176D, §3(9)(f) is a "per se" violation of MGL c.93A for which liability under the statute is automatic, and treble damages shall apply.

To this end, this Office makes formal demand for your violations of both MGL c.176D et. seq. and MGL c.93A et. seq.. You shall provide a response pursuant to MGL c.93A as you deem fit within thirty (30) days of receipt of this letter. Please note that M.G.L. c. 93A §9 provides the opportunity to make a reasonable written settlement offer within thirty days of your receipt of this letter. The purpose of the statutory written demand is to encourage settlements. While contemplating your offer, your attention is directed to the public policy behind M.G.L. c. 93A's settlement provision:

"Indeed, the conduct proscribed by the Statute is as much the failure to make a reasonable settlement offer as it is the substantive violation of c. 93A. Multiple damages are the appropriate punishment for forcing plaintiffs to litigate clearly valid claims" International Fidelity Ins. Co. v. Wilson, 443 N.E. 2d 1308, 1318 (Mass, 1983)"

Thank you for your immediate attention to this formal pre-suit demand. You are commanded to direct all communication to this office and not contact my clients or their family members in any manner. Any communication by and between the parties or their counsel arising out of or in response to this letter shall be engaged in without prejudice unless otherwise agreed to in writing.

This office intends to institute full legal proceedings if same are necessary to obtain demand outlined above.

Regards,

Chaz R. Fisher

MGL c.93A, §9

PART I ADMINISTRATION OF THE GOVERNMENTTITLE XV REGULATION OF TRADECHAPTER 93A REGULATION OF BUSINESS PRACTICES FOR CONSUMERS PROTECTIONSection 9 Civil actions and remedies; class action; demand for relief; damages; costs; exhausting administrative remedies

Section 9. (1) Any person, other than a person entitled to bring action under section eleven of this chapter, who has been injured by another person's use or employment of any method, act or practice declared to be unlawful by section two or any rule or regulation issued thereunder or any person whose rights are affected by another person violating the provisions of clause (9) of section three of chapter one hundred and seventy-six D may bring an action in the superior court, or in the housing court as provided in section three of chapter one hundred and eighty-five C whether by way of original complaint, counterclaim, cross-claim or third party action, for damages and such equitable relief, including an injunction, as the court deems to be necessary and proper.

(2) Any persons entitled to bring such action may, if the use or employment of the unfair or deceptive act or practice has caused similar injury to numerous other persons similarly situated and if the court finds in a preliminary hearing that he adequately and fairly represents such other persons, bring the action on behalf of himself and such other similarly injured and situated persons; the court shall require that notice of such action be given to unnamed petitioners in the most effective practicable manner. Such action shall not be dismissed, settled or compromised without the approval of the court, and notice of any proposed dismissal, settlement or compromise shall be given to all members of the class of petitioners in such manner as the court directs.

(3) At least thirty days prior to the filing of any such action, a written demand for relief, identifying the claimant and reasonably describing the unfair or deceptive act or practice relied upon and the injury suffered, shall be mailed or delivered to any prospective respondent. Any person receiving such a demand for relief who, within thirty days of the mailing or delivery of the demand for relief, makes a written tender of settlement which is rejected by the claimant may, in any subsequent action, file the written tender and an affidavit concerning its rejection and thereby limit any recovery to the relief tendered if the court finds that the relief tendered was reasonable in relation to the injury actually suffered by the petitioner. In all other cases, if the court finds for the petitioner, recovery shall be in the amount of actual damages or twenty-five dollars, whichever is greater; or up to three but not less than two times such amount if the court finds that the use or employment of the act or practice was a willful or knowing violation of said section two or that the refusal to grant relief upon demand was made in bad faith with knowledge or reason to know that the act or practice complained of violated said section two. For the purposes of this chapter, the amount of actual damages to be multiplied by the court shall be the amount of the judgment on all claims arising out of the same and underlying transaction or occurrence, regardless of the existence or nonexistence of insurance coverage available in payment of the claim. In addition, the court shall award such other equitable relief, including an injunction, as it deems to be necessary and proper. The demand requirements of this paragraph shall not apply if the claim is asserted by way of counterclaim or cross-claim, or if the prospective respondent does not maintain a place of business or does not keep assets within the commonwealth, but such respondent may otherwise employ the provisions of this section by making a written offer of relief and paying the rejected tender into court as soon as practicable after receiving notice of an action commenced under this section. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, if the court finds any method, act or practice unlawful with regard to any security or any contract of sale of a commodity for future delivery as defined in section two, and if the court finds for the petitioner, recovery shall be in the amount of actual damages.

(3A) A person may assert a claim under this section in a district court, whether by way of original complaint, counterclaim, cross-claim or third-party action, for money damages only. Said damages may include double or treble damages, attorneys' fees and costs, as herein provided. The demand requirements and provision for tender of offer of settlement provided in paragraph (3) shall also be applicable under this paragraph, except that no rights to equitable relief shall be created under this paragraph, nor shall a person asserting a claim hereunder be able to assert any claim on behalf of other similarly injured and situated persons as provided in paragraph (2).

(4) If the court finds in any action commenced hereunder that there has been a violation of section two, the petitioner shall, in addition to other relief provided for by this section and irrespective of the amount in controversy, be awarded reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in connection with said action; provided, however, the court shall deny recovery of attorney's fees and costs which are incurred after the rejection of a reasonable written offer of settlement made within thirty days of the mailing or delivery of the written demand for relief required by this section.

[There is no paragraph (5).]

(6) Any person entitled to bring an action under this section shall not be required to initiate, pursue or exhaust any remedy established by any regulation, administrative procedure, local, state or federal law or statute or the common law in order to bring an action under this section or to obtain injunctive relief or recover damages or attorney's fees or costs or other relief as provided in this section. Failure to exhaust administrative remedies shall not be a defense to any proceeding under this section, except as provided in paragraph seven.

(7) The court may upon motion by the respondent before the time for answering and after a hearing suspend proceedings brought under this section to permit the respondent to initiate action in which the petitioner shall be named a party before any appropriate regulatory board or officer providing adjudicatory hearings to complainants if the respondent's evidence indicates that:

(a) there is a substantial likelihood that final action by the court favorable to the petitioner would require of the respondent conduct or practices that would disrupt or be inconsistent with a regulatory scheme that regulates or covers the actions or transactions complained of by the petitioner established and administered under law by any state or federal regulatory board or officer acting under statutory authority of the commonwealth or of the United States; or

(b) that said regulatory board or officer has a substantial interest in reviewing said transactions or actions prior to judicial action under this chapter and that the said regulatory board or officer has the power to provide substantially the relief sought by the petitioner and the class, if any, which the petitioner represents, under this section.

Upon suspending proceedings under this section the court may enter any interlocutory or temporary orders it deems necessary and proper pending final action by the regulatory board or officer and trial, if any, in the court, including issuance of injunctions, certification of a class, and orders concerning the presentation of the matter to the regulatory board or officer. The court shall issue appropriate interlocutory orders, decrees and injunctions to preserve the status quo between the parties pending final action by the regulatory board or officer and trial and shall stay all proceedings in any court or before any regulatory board or officer in which petitioner and respondent are necessarily involved. The court may issue further orders, injunctions or other relief while the matter is before the regulatory board or officer and shall terminate the suspension and bring the matter forward for trial if it finds (a) that proceedings before the regulatory board or officer are unreasonably delayed or otherwise unreasonably prejudicial to the interests of a party before the court, or (b) that the regulatory board or officer has not taken final action within six months of the beginning of the order suspending proceedings under this chapter.

(8) Except as provided in section ten, recovering or failing to recover an award of damages or other relief in any administrative or judicial proceeding, except proceedings authorized by this section, by any person entitled to bring an action under this section, shall not constitute a bar to, or limitation upon relief authorized by this section.

(i) Attempting to settle claims on the basis of an application which was altered without notice to, or knowledge or consent of the insured;

(j) Making claims payments to insured or beneficiaries not accompanied by a statement setting forth the coverage under which payments are being made;

(k) Making known to insured or claimants a policy of appealing from arbitration awards in favor of insureds or claimants for the purpose of compelling them to accept settlements of compromises less than the amount awarded in arbitration;

(l) Delaying the investigation or payment of claims by requiring that an insured or claimant, or the physician of either, submit a preliminary claim report and then requiring the subsequent submission of formal proof of loss forms, both of which submissions contain substantially the same information;

(m) Failing to settle claims promptly, where liability has become reasonably clear, under one portion of the insurance policy coverage in order to influence settlements under other portions of the insurance policy coverage; or

(n) Failing to provide promptly a reasonable explanation of the basis in the insurance policy in relation to the facts or applicable law for denial of a claim or for the offer of a compromise settlement.
